Dear All,

Thank you for being a part of this amazing journey.

We have become the most preferred brand in our category as a result of your hard work and deep commitment. Despite the COVID challenges, we grew by 25% in FY2021-22, and we owe this to every one of you – in our various divisions and with varying responsibilities.

We are now ready for any challenge, thanks to the introduction of Alcomb and Louvers last year. And you have been responsible for our current positive state, and I congratulate you all, regardless of your role.

We are also taking steps to increase our production capacity, and I am pleased to report that we have increased our production capacity by an incredible 40%. Not only have we increased our capacity, but we have also delved into backward integration to create our in-house coating line, which will result in faster deliveries and enhanced quality for our esteemed customers. Our plant's modernization is nearing completion. I promise you that we will launch a slew of new products. Several new products have been introduced.

Furthermore, the Megastar promotion for fabricators was a resounding success, with participants earning attractive prizes for their enthusiastic participation.

I am seeking your cooperation and support in the new fiscal year so that our combined efforts can propel us to greater heights in the coming years.

Let's never settle for less than the best!

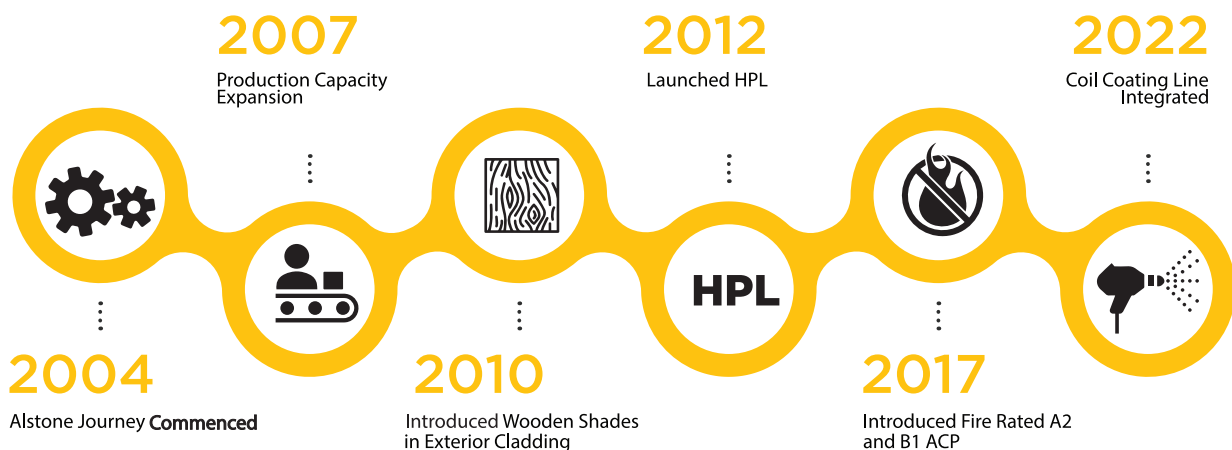

Thank you, and best wishes for a prosperous fiscal year ahead.

ALSTONE ALCOMB NEXT GEN HONEYCOMB PANELS

Alstone Alcomb is a light and robust panel formed of two aluminium alloy sheets facing each other and a honeycomb core formed out of aluminium foils – a true inspiration of the natural hexagonal honeycomb. It is lighter than other materials due to its unique honeycomb structure. It also improves the rigidity and stability of the body. These panels are eco-friendly because they are entirely recyclable and reusable.

Aluminium alloy is a non-combustible material that works well as a fire retardant and fire prevention material. We can build upon the trust that our customers already repose in us by extending a 15-year warranty on our honeycomb panels, thanks to superior quality-control procedures that include rigorous testing under the most stringent standards.
